

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF MASSACHUSETTS

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

v.

ALFRED W. TRENKLER

No. 92-CR-10369-WES-2

DEFENDANT’S NOTICE OF SUPPLEMENTAL AUTHORITY

On April 1, 2021, the Tenth Circuit decided United States v. Mauman, No. 20-4056, 2021 U.S. App. LEXIS 9510 (10th Cir. Apr. 1, 2021).¹ Mauman affirmed the district court’s grant of compassionate release to a defendant serving an extraordinarily long stacked § 924(c) sentence, viewed in the totality of the circumstances. The concurring judge stated that a district court might abuse its discretion only if it granted relief solely based on a disagreement with a mandatory minimum sentence that was required when imposed. See id. at *39 (Tymkovich, J., concurring) (noting that such a grant “would have substituted [the court’s] own judgment for that of Congress and thus abused its discretion”). Even that concern is not implicated here, however, because the statute of conviction here precluded the sentence imposed.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED TRENKLER
